

Let's get to the most important question we're always asked... So, Rosie, what fabric did you use for [insert name of quilt]?

Given the time it takes to get a book from finished quilts to publication, all of the fabrics used for the quilts in this book have been "out" for awhile. But there is still some good news.

Several of my favorite quilts were made with collections that will have "sisters" coming soon. If you love the Lincoln quilt made with Bliss, then look for Ruby. Both collections are by Bonnie and Camille for Cotton Blossoms.

If you want a French Cindy Lou made with Rouenneries, then you'll have to wait for the Rouenneries Deux collection coming in January of 2012.

Decoy? You're going to love Prairie Paisley 2, also coming in early 2012. Hmm... I think this means Rosie and I should start saving our pennies...
